Dear Rock World Students:

Welcome to Rock World, where exploration of rocks takes on a new meaning!

During our time together, we will meet with an aggregate scientist, find out what an experienced rock hound is, and learn about Minnesota landforms. In addition, we will enjoy many activities related to rocks that we know you will “dig”. Just like geologists, you will be expected to take notes both in class and “in the field”. We are prepared to help you with note-taking as it is a new skill for many Rock World students. Also, just like geologists, you will be expected to communicate your geologic knowledge for others in varied forms throughout this course.

For the first day of Summer Academy class we ask you to bring:

- Your favorite rock
- School supply box with pencils, markers, scissors and glue
- A healthy snack

We are looking forward to investigating the world of rocks with you this summer. If you need to talk with us, we can be reached at the email addresses listed below. Be sure to check out Rock World’s website:

Rock World - IT ROCKS!

Sincerely,

Renee Marek and Isaac Engel
